

Dear Mrs Roberts,

Every day of your life matters – from the first to the last. When you're living with a terminal illness, you feel that more than ever. The right care and support at the right time can make all the difference.

Whether it's terminal cancer or any other illness, we want people to be able to get the most from the time they have left.

Marie Curie Nurses work night and day, in people's homes across this area, providing hands-on care and vital emotional support.

Our ageing population means more and more people are living with a terminal illness. Even now, one in four people don't get the care and support they need at the end of their lives. We don't think that's good enough. The things people need aren't too much to ask; high quality care in the place they want to be, control of symptoms like pain and clear information from the start. So that, even at such a difficult, emotional time, people can feel in control. That's what Marie Curie has been giving people across the UK for 70 years, through our nurses, hospices and other services.

We urgently need your support to make that possible, and wonder if, Bodfari Parish Council might consider making a financial donation to support our local service.

All money donated supports the local Marie Curie nurses and services, so you can rest assured that in your community patients and families will directly benefit from your gift.

Kind Regards
Laura Ellis-Bartlett
